Resolutions urging Congress to give the local Washington boys a home for his veteran organizations in lieu of cash bonuses now paid our comrades in most of the States. It is pointed out in this resolution that the District of Columbia never vet had an armory. Veteran organiza-tions are without a home to house their equipment. The erection of heir equipment. this building is urged as a tribute to the 520 Washington boys who gave their lives in the world war, and as a tribute to the 20,000 who served their country in the world war. The post will meet Tuesday night in the board room, District Building, when a representative from the War Department will be present to distribute victory medals and discharge papers are necessary to secure them. Comrade Carroll has his drum

The post also requests the War Department for two large captured German cannons to be placed on the lawns in front of the District Building. Final plans are arranged for the funeral of Vincent B.
